PARENTS SLAM CLOSURE MOVE

THE number of children's centres in Basingstoke and Deane is to be slashed from 11 to just one as part of cuts approved by Hampshire County Council.

Only the Honeycomb centre in Buckskin will remain open as a single support hub for families across the borough that are deemed the "most vulnerable".

Executive member for children's services, Councillor Keith Mans, approved the closure of 43 out of Hampshire's 54 centres last week as part of plans to make savings of £8.5 million.

Despite being heckled by mothers and drowned out by crying babies at Friday's meeting in Winchester, Cllr Mans defended his decision, saying: "In the face of on-going profound reductions in central Government funding, we are determined to maintain essential services, particularly services for those with high levels of need of our help, care and protection. In order to do this, we have to develop ways to do things differently."

"This decision has not been easy but I am satisfied that this new service will support those who are most vulnerable and in need of help but who do not meet the threshold for statutory social care, while ensuring that comprehensive information, advice and signposting is provided for all."

By Christian Wilson

The decision to combine the work of the children's centres was made following a 10-week consultation period.

Of the 2,124 responders, 83 per cent of them voiced their opposition to the cuts, with the Liberal Democrats' spokeswoman for children on the council, Cllr Jackie Porter, accusing the authority of being "disingenuous" with its verdict.

Hampshire mum-of-two Catherine Ovenden, who has led a campaign against the cuts over the past few months after starting protest group Save Our Children's Centres (SOCC), vowed to explore the possibility of challenging the decision with a judicial review.

She said: "I'm devastated because we worked so hard and gave them so much evidence."

"The consultation was just a paper exercise, which makes it all feel pointless, as they never were going to read the responses properly. They decided beforehand what they were going to do and have just gone and done it."

Sherfield housing plan turned down

CONTROVERSIAL plans to build at least 95 homes in Sherfield-on-Loddon have been refused by Basingstoke's council.

The authority ruled that the plans to provide the additional housing on land to the north of Goddards Lane were not "sustainable" in a decision notice sent last week.

Residents from the village had long shown their displeasure towards the plans, with more than 200 attending a parish council meeting at the start of the year to voice their disapproval.

The application, which was submitted jointly by Sentinel Housing and Gladman Developments, also received 125 different letters of objection from local residents while it was being considered.

Concerns had been raised about the village's suitability for the extra housing, as well as the site's position in the gap separating Sherfield from Chineham and Bramley - points addressed in the council's verdict.

The notice of refusal read: "The proposal is not considered to represent sustainable development and is contrary to the Basingstoke and Deane borough local plan.

"The proposed development would introduce inappropriate residential development within the countryside, which would fail to respect and integrate with the character, visual amenity and scenic quality of the local landscape."

By Christian Wilson

One person that has played a key role in opposing the plans has been Sherfield Green resident Venetia Rowland, who ran for and won the vacant Bramley and Sherfield seat on the borough council in May as part of the campaign.

And while expressing her delight at the outcome, Cllr Rowland felt that the approval of the council's new housing plan to build 850 homes annually earlier this year played a major part in the application being refused.

She said: "I felt like I was contributing to the community when petitioning for this, which definitely made me want to be a borough councillor.

"This decision means not putting people in an area that can't support the lifestyle, so I'm very pleased.

"The local plan coming in at just the right time has really helped us here, while the residents' voice also played a big part.

"But we have to view this as a battle won, not a war, because they can still appeal."

The developers have six months to launch an appeal, with Sentinel revealing that they and Gladman were "now jointly considering our options for the future of the site".

Development director Mike Shepherd said: "We're working with Gladman Developments to deliver a mix of affordable and private homes in Sherfield-on-Loddon.

"It's always disappointing when planning is refused, especially when we're in the midst of a housing crisis.

"Our number-one priority is to build more new homes and it's this type of partnership that will help us to do that."

Homes decision

ROOKSDOWN: Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council will make a final decision on plans to build 90 homes in Rooksdown next week.

The £8.7 million plans would see a mixture of 66 houses and 28 flats built on land in Priestley Road and at the Aldermaston Road Triangle off the A340.

A total of 14 one-bed and 14 two-bed apartments would be built, as well as six two-bed, 32 three-bed and 24 four-bed houses, with 184 car parking spaces made available.

Council officers have recommended that the plans be approved, with previous concerns raised over the number of spaces not being sufficient, due to the site's position close to Basingstoke hospital.

The borough council's development control committee will meet to discuss the plans from 6.30pm on Wednesday evening at the civic offices in London Road.

Tribute to Farage

HAMPSHIRE: The chairman of Ukip Hampshire has paid tribute to outgoing party leader Nigel Farage.

Mr Farage resigned from the position on Monday, declaring, "I want my life back" after playing a key role in influencing the British public's decision to vote to leave the European Union (EU) last month.

Local Ukip group chairman, Alan Stone, said the country "owes an eternal debt of gratitude" to the outgoing leader.

He said: "He has achieved his aim for Great Britain to leave the ever-growing political nightmare that is the European Union.

"Without Nigel Farage and Ukip, our country would never have been given the referendum that had been promised for years.

"I hope the next Prime Minister has the sense to include Nigel Farage in the exit negotiation team."

Woman sexually assaulted near cemetery

A 55-YEAR-OLD woman was sexually assaulted as she walked her dog near a Basingstoke cemetery last week.

The incident took place between 10.20am and 10.30am on Wednesday as the victim walked along the path that runs behind Worting Road Cemetery.

A man wearing a black hooded top with the hood pulled up approached the victim before slapping her in the face and sexually assaulting her.

The women's ordeal only ended when her dog bit the suspect, who has been described as white, aged in his late teens or early 20s, and is understood to have been about 5ft 9ins tall.

Hampshire police have since launched an investigation into the assault, and have urged anyone who might be able to provide them with any information to come forward.

Detective Constable Dan Leese, of Basingstoke CID, said: "This is a rare incident to take place in Basingstoke, and we would like anyone with information about what happened to contact us as soon as possible.

"It took place during the day, on a busy footpath that leads to a footbridge over the ring road.

"Were you in the area at this time?"

"Did you see a man wearing a black hooded top?"

"If so, please get in touch."

Anyone with information is asked to contact DC Leese on 101, quoting crime reference number 44160241704, or call the confidential Crimestoppers number anonymously on 0800 555111.

Suspended jail term for harassment of teenager

A BASINGSTOKE man who subjected a 14-year-old girl to three months of "sustained" harassment has avoided jail.

Dennis Patton, of Wentworth Crescent, Beggarwood, saw his 22-week sentence suspended for two years at Reading Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

The same court had found the 50-year-old guilty of two counts of harassment on May 20 following a two-day trial. The case came three years after Patton produced a film on the impact of bullying on young people.

Patton contacted the unnamed girl and her family, who all live in the Reading area, on a number of occasions between September and December last year after first approaching the teenager via social media.

He threatened to visit the victim's home and speak to her family to "discuss matters of a sexual nature", before sending her abusive text messages after she blocked him on Facebook.

The victim was contacted via a range of mobile phone applications, including Snapchat and WhatsApp - receiving 36 messages in two days in September. On September 29, a hand-delivered letter was received by the victim's parents from Patton, before another letter and flowers were found outside the girl's front door on October 6.

By Christian Wilson

The teenager's mother was sent a series of abusive text messages over a three-day period at the start of December, relating to her daughter.

And on December 19, the victim received text messages from someone, a stranger, passing on messages claiming to be from Patton's son, via Snapchat.

Investigating officer, PC Kris Couzens, of Reading CID, said the "consistent and sustained harassment" had left the victim feeling "very vulnerable and distressed".

Patton wrote educational movie "Teenage Kicks" in 2013 to help raise awareness of the impact that bullying could have. The NSPCC condemned his actions with its spokesman saying: "Dennis Patton has shown real hypocrisy in his relentless harassment of his young victim and her family. He more than most should have understood the impact of his actions."

Man assaulted

BASINGSTOKE: A 26-year-old man suffered significant facial injuries when he was attacked as he walked home.

He was walking in the pedestrian area outside the Crown Heights block of flats in Basingstoke when the assault took place between 4am and 5am on Saturday. The victim was taken to Basingstoke hospital.

Police have urged anyone who saw the assault or who was in the area at the time to come forward.

Contact PC Josh Beckerleg at Basingstoke CID on 101 with information, quoting crime reference number 44160245853.

Step forward

HAMPSHIRE: Plans to create a Solent combined authority for Southampton, Portsmouth and the Isle of Wight have taken a big step forward.

It is understood that £900 million has been allocated by the Government for the new authority to spend over 30 years as it looks to devolve more powers.

Basingstoke and Deane is one of seven councils exploring the option of a devolution deal of its own, under the name: Heart of Hampshire.

It is hoped that the creation of the combined authority would hand more powers to the borough and district councils.

Protester claims people 'will die' through closures

• Cllr Keith Mans

"It's not dramatic to say that people will die because of this."

Lily Pads in Chineham, Courtyard in Lychpit, Octopus in Oakridge, Badgers in Bishops Green, Pebbles in Popley, Home Tree in Tadley, Westside in South Ham, Buttercups in Brighton Hill, Bunnies in Hatch Warren and Snowdrops in Overton are all now due to close.

As previously reported in the Observer, almost 2,000 people signed a petition by Basingstoke's Labour group to help save the "invaluable" centres.

The group's leader Paul Harvey criticised the county council for "ignoring" the views of residents in making its "disgraceful" decision.

Cllr Harvey said: "It absolutely beggars belief that they think they can do this. They're destroying the service, and it shows they don't care about the people of Basingstoke and Deane."

"People have told them so strongly that they need to keep these centres, but they haven't been listened to - where is the democracy in this?"

Coastal row halted as 'Captain Ketch' falls ill

IT was a case of third time unlucky for Basingstoke adventurer James Ketchell last week as he was once again forced to call off a record attempt while at sea.

The 34-year-old was attempting to become the first person in history to circumnavigate the whole coast of Great Britain in a rowing boat on his own.

But after setting off on his challenge from St Katherine Docks in London on Saturday, June 25, the man known as 'Captain Ketch' was forced to abandon his 2,000-mile mission on Friday because of illness.

Writing on his blog, he said: "I can honestly say you really never do know what's around the corner. I cannot believe that I left London just over a week ago and now I'm typing this blog from dry land. I am now at home resting and will be here for a little while to come."

By Christian Wilson

James had been making good progress from Tower Bridge, past Margate and on to Dover, when he started to feel seriously ill on Thursday evening.

Thinking he just needed to rest, he anchored the boat and tried to get some sleep, but after his condition worsened the next day he called Dover Port over his VMF radio to seek medical attention. After an ambulance was called, James was then taken to dry land by pilot boat, with doctors telling him 12 hours later that he had a urine infection affecting his kidneys.

Last week's rescue was the third time in the last 12 months that 'Captain Ketch' had seen one of his challenges abruptly called off, after his attempts to row across the Indian Ocean and the Atlantic both ended in him being rescued.

The public speaker was looking to raise money for children's charity Over The Wall, and while disappointed, he vowed to complete the job.

He added: "I am still in shock as to how this has happened and, as one would imagine, a feeling of absolute disappointment is constantly hammering away at me. However, this is not the end and I will continue, although the project is going to take a slightly different form."

"More details as to what's happening moving forward will come, but I am just focusing on feeling better at the moment."

Help sought for elderly drivers

• Road Safety Sergeant Rob Heard

A GROUNDBREAKING drive from Hampshire police supporting older motorists to stay on the roads reached the House of Commons on Monday.

Leading experts from across the country travelled to London to recommend to politicians that an action plan to help make older drivers safer for longer be implemented.

The key recommendation announced as part of the report brought up the possibility of increasing the age from 70 to 75 for when motorists have to make a self-declaration that they are still fit to drive.

Other suggestions included requiring the DVLA to get evidence of an eyesight test at licence renewal, improving road design, signs and markings, and piloting new products that offer an alternative to driving for the elderly.

Police data suggests that older drivers are less likely to be involved in crashes than young drivers, with Hampshire Road Safety Sergeant Rob Heard handing the report his support.

He said: "I have been proud to be part of this national task force and share the great work we have been doing in Hampshire and the Isle of Wight to support older drivers."

"I feel that should the recommendations be agreed then we will go a long way to help and support the mature motorist to carry on driving safely for longer in our ageing population."

The borough council is staging the information event at its civic offices from 3pm to 8pm, with residents invited to drop in to get free information and advice about the Government's Help to Buy and Shared Ownership schemes.

There will also be information provided on which schemes are available and affordable, and how to apply, from Help to Buy South advisers and representatives from housing associations.

Man assaulted

BASINGSTOKE: A motorist was assaulted by another driver at Black Dam roundabout last Monday at around 5pm.

The 34-year-old male driver was waiting at the traffic lights in his black Mercedes Benz SLK when a 4x4 vehicle pulled up alongside him.

A white man, with blonde hair, aged between 25 and 35, then got out of the vehicle and threatened him.

He then hit the victim on the back of the head, before getting back into his car and driving away.

Celebrity chef to be star of popular event

CELEBRITY TV chef Brian Turner is set to join Basingstoke food and drink producers to cook up a treat at this year's Taste at Top of Town.

The popular food festival will return to town on Sunday, July 31, following its huge success last year when Jean-Christophe Novelli's appearance helped attract an audience of more than 4,500 people.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council is aiming to make this year's event even better as Hampshire food producers show off their products in a range of different stalls.

The main attraction will be Ready Steady Cook and Saturday Kitchen chef Brian, who will create delicious dishes at the food theatre stand.

Family activities, entertainment from Plunge Boom's Vegetable Nannies, and food-themed street theatre will feature as part of the event from 10am to 5pm in Market Place.

Council deputy leader Terri Reid said: "We are delighted to see the return of Taste at Top of Town for a second year. It proved phenomenally popular last year and I am sure it will attract many people again this year as we have another brilliant celebrity chef and a packed food programme on offer."

Trio fight cancer in memory of friend Nick

THE legacy of Basingstoke and Deane villager Nick Maude has been secured after three friends clubbed together to raise £59,000 to help fight the disease that ended his life.

Back in July 2011, Nick was on the top of the world after cycling the 208km one-day stage of the Tour de France – the 'Etape', in the mountainous region of the Massif Central.

But just four months later the popular 56-year-old from Upton Grey died following a late diagnosis of kidney cancer.

Having seen the shock dete-

By Christian Wilson

rioration of their close friend's health, Richard Perkins, Roger Morgan-Grenville and Simon James set their sights on raising £90,000 for Kidney Cancer UK in Nick's memory.

Richard, of St Cross, Winchester, had joined Nick on his ride through the south of France, and set himself the challenge of cycling 2,012 miles in 150 days in 2012 – completing his challenge by cycling up to his friend's house, near Basingstoke.

He said: "Nick's legacy is one of calm, faith, steadfastness and kindness and it seems very wrong that the world should continue on its way without him."

The other two members of the trio also completed 2012 trials of their own, with Roger running 5.5 miles every day to breach the mark with one day left to spare, and Simon cycling 2,012 miles, running 2,012 laps of a running track and swimming 2,012 lengths of a pool.

Roger, of Midhurst, West Sussex, said: "Every step of the 1.5 million I ran was a tiny celebration of Nick's life; every time the limbs started to pack up, the thought of these efforts helping another 'Nick' through our fundraising got them working again."

Simon said: "We still have a way to go to reach our final target in the name of our friend whom we all miss very much, and to help kidney cancer patients in any way we can through funding for this research."

The money raised so far will help to fund a PhD student's studies for three to four years into the development and progression of kidney cancer. Project lead at The Royal Free Hospital London, Dr Maxine Tran, said: "An important aim is to increase our understanding of how kidney cancers behave, improved knowledge will help us find better ways of early detection and treatment, which will ultimately bring us closer to reducing deaths from this silent killer."

Plans for much-needed roads given boost by county council

PLANS by the borough council to provide much-needed infrastructure in Basingstoke and Deane ahead of the arrival of more houses in the area received a boost last week.

Hampshire County Council agreed at a meeting last Thursday to continue its strategy on securing funding for major transport infrastructure to deal with increased housing demand across the county.

One of the key schemes that will be affected includes Basingstoke and Deane, where a transport network is being planned for the future to accommodate the 850 homes being built in line with the area's local plan.

The borough council is also looking to tackle congestion around Basingstoke, with the county council working with the Enterprise M3 Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP) to provide the necessary funding.

Executive member for environment and transport, Cllr Rob Humby, said: "It's a very competitive process to win money to improve transport infrastructure, and it can take a great deal of planning and work with partners, such as the district councils and the local enterprise partnerships, to ensure that the schemes we put forward stand out and truly benefit the community."

"Our overall aim is to make sure we have the funding in place so the whole of Hampshire has a transport network fit for the 21st century, for residents and businesses alike."

Charity's appeal

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: Specialist palliative care charity St Michael's Hospital is making a final plea to residents to sign up for its 'Big Wheel 24' cycling fundraiser.

The event through the Basingstoke and Deane countryside gives riders the choice of three routes over 21, 39 or 65 miles. Children will be able to join the 'Little Wheel' event for two- to seven-year-olds. All routes start from Down Grange Sports Complex.

The cost of registration on Sunday, July 24, ranges from £10 to £25 for adults, depending on which route is taken.

Freeze your food

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: Residents are being urged by the borough council to freeze food rather than throw it away as part of Food Safety Week.

According to the Food Standards Agency, a major reason for discarding food is because it was past its use-by date.

Force refutes claim of rise in hate crime

HAMPSHIRE Constabulary has hit back at claims that the EU referendum has resulted in more hate-crime incidents in the area.

The force has revealed that in the week when the landmark 'Brexit' vote took place there were less reports across the county than in the weeks before.

A total of 42 incidents were reported in Hampshire between June 20 and June 26, compared to 54 between June 13 and June 19, and 52 the week before that. The National Police Chiefs Council claimed last week that the number of reports had risen by 57 per cent in the days following the vote on June 23.

One incident on Monday last week saw BBC journalist Sima Kotecha allegedly called a "pi" in Basingstoke as she conducted an interview with residents about the borough's decision to narrowly vote in favour of leaving the EU.

Hampshire police launched an investigation into the claims last week, with a 24-year-old man voluntarily attending Basingstoke police station on Wednesday to be interviewed under caution before being released without charge.

A police statement said: "We would like to reassure residents in Hampshire that the force has not seen a spike in hate crime-related incidents."

"For us, any incident of hate crime is unacceptable and we take each and every one very seriously but we hope that these figures come as some reassurance to those worried about a large increase in hate crimes."

"We work very closely with all our communities across Hampshire and the Isle of Wight and as a result of many years of engagement, our neighbourhood teams have built up strong links with our minority communities who know that we are there for them if they need us."

Reports are being investigated by Cambridgeshire Police of laminated cards reading "Leave the EU - no more Polish vermin" being delivered to the Polish community in Huntington the day after the EU result.

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller moved to quickly condemn any similar abuse in the town, labelling the reports as "sickening".

Music event raises £69,000 to aid cancer charity cause

A famous face was on hand as an auction helped raise £69,000 for a Basingstoke charity.

About 500 guests attended the Music in The Garden fundraiser in the 12-acre gardens of Hazelby House in East Woodhay to help the Ark Cancer Centre Charity.

And they all put their hands in their pockets to try and outbid one another for nine different lots, including a private dinner party prepared and cooked in their home by this year's BBC Masterchef winner Jane Devonshire.

The Hampshire mother-of-four has a vested interest in the charity, having previously been treated for liver cancer by consultant surgeon Merv Rees, who also attended the night on June 24 as a trustee for the charity.

He said: "I cannot thank everyone enough for their great support for Music in The Garden."

"The generosity of the many people involved in making this event such a success is humbling and much appreciated."

"I am also very grateful for the generous support of the auction and raffle prize donors."

Other auction lots included a 14-night holiday in a villa in Florida and a one-week stay at a luxury chalet in Meribel, France, while visitors also raised thousands from a raffle.

And guests were also able to explore the grounds while listening to music being performed by East Woodhay Silver Band, Basingstoke Hospital Male Voice Choir and soul singer Natasha Watts.

Police move

ALTON: Hampshire's police and crime commissioner (PCC) has confirmed that the Alton Neighbourhood Patrol and Response teams will be moving from late autumn.

Alton Police Station's teams will be moving to Hatch House in the centre of Alton, while the station and front counter services will remain open until late spring next year when it will be sold.

PCC Michael Lane said: "The move later this year for Neighbourhood and Response teams keeps the police in the centre of Alton, where they will continue to keep residents safer."

Art accolade

SHERFIELD ON LODDON: Artist Jayne Perkins, of Sherfield-on-Loddon, had her artwork highly commended at the annual David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation's Wildlife Artist of the Year event. Her watercolour of a tiger impressed judges at last week's event.

Mayor to attend

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: The borough council's mayor, Cllr Jane Frankum, will attend Hatch Warren Summer Community Festival on Saturday from 1.30pm to 3pm at Hatch Warren Community Centre.

Full line-up is revealed for Basingstoke Live

MUSIC fans have been put on alert after the council released the full line-up for this weekend's Basingstoke Live.

Thousands of people are expected to flock to the town's biggest free music festival throughout Saturday and Sunday at War Memorial Park.

More than 100 different live acts from across the world, the country and the borough will perform across the annual showpiece's five stages as the music extravaganza brings an end to Basingstoke Festival.

Residents will be able to see a wide variety of different artists

• Grime and dubstep MC P Money will headline the Main Stage on the Main Stage on Saturday, with the public set to be treated to the unmistakable sound of grime MC P Money at the end of the day.

The following night, the legendary former frontman of ska group The Specials, Neville Staple, will be taking centre stage and performing classics and new songs with his group The Neville Staple Band.

Basingstoke multi-instrumentalist Cadit will also warm up the Main Stage for the headliners, while Bear and The Woods, Elasea, Dream Overkill and The Buster Cornelius Quartet will also perform over the two days.

Fans of Alternative hardcore rock band Treasures, also from Basingstoke, will get to hear tracks from the group's debut EP Alive and their forthcoming album Shadow Son on the Unplgd! Stage.

Other highlights will see up-and-coming aggressive alternative southern rockers Yearbook close the show on Saturday evening on the Amped Stage.

And Basingstoke and Deane-based 11-piece funk-soul-rare groove outfit b-funkt will close the Sunrise Stage on Sunday.

Those wanting to play an instrument, have a go on the DJ decks, or learn how to will be able to give it a go throughout the weekend in workshops held at the Creative Stage.

And residents will even be able to try their hand at graffiti, take part in busking sessions, learn how to dance with Happy

Feet and show off their football 'keepy-uppy' skills.

More than 30,000 people enjoyed last year's event, with organisers Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council hoping for even bigger numbers in the music festival's 10th year.

Deputy leader Cllr Terri Reid said: "This year's Basingstoke Live has a great line-up and promises to be a brilliant blend of music, dance and creativity to provide something for all tastes.

"The event will be a fabulous finale to this year's festival."

Residents are able to bring their own drinks to the event, although no entry with alcohol will be permitted after 8pm, and glass containers will not be allowed on site.

For a full list of the line-up, visit www.basingstokelive.co.uk.

Tea party is staged to thank hospital volunteers

THE work done by volunteers at Basingstoke hospital was celebrated last week as helpers were thrown a tea party.

Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT), which runs the hospital, rewarded the volunteers for all their hard work by handing them a cup of tea and a slice of cake on a rare break.

The volunteers help care for patients by driving them to and from appointments, helping staff on wards, helping at mealtimes, and simply talking to and entertaining them.

One of the those rewarded for her good work by HHFT was Sophie Knox who started volunteering at Basingstoke hospital in 2013, and is now a housekeeping assistant at elderly rehabilitation unit the Firs.

She said: "I like working with older people and my duties as a volunteer included getting supplies from the shop for patients, handing out lunches and helping to feed patients.

"I'm really enjoying my job and the most enjoyable part of is chatting to patients and listening to their stories."

The hospital trust also runs the Royal Hampshire County Hospital in Winchester and Andover War Memorial Hospital.

HHFT volunteer manager Jane Davies said: "We have wonderful support from a very loyal and dedicated group of people who donate their time to helping us care for patients.

"Their support is appreciated by everyone who comes into contact with them."

Eric Robinson Breaks into Basingstoke

WITH a 50 year history, six offices across Hampshire, and representation from a bright blue owl named 'Eric', one of the Solent's most well-known law firms, Eric Robinson Solicitors, is breaking new ground by opening its seventh office in the heart of Basingstoke.

The firm will also be pioneering its first 'seven day opening' in the town so people can meet with staff to discuss legal matters in person on any day that suits them.

"Feedback we receive constantly reinforces the value our clients place on personal interaction and relationships," says Thomas Hunt, the Partner responsible for the firm's new office just outside Festival Place. "Our ambition with seven day opening is to combine the expectations and convenience of the modern world with those who still appreciate a personal, traditional service."

The desire to respond to provide the same people-orientated service across all legal disciplines is also evident in Eric Robinson Solicitors' approach to its commercial clients.

"We take pride in supporting a wide range of SME businesses that often need guidance, reassurance and a helping hand," says Hunt. "Basingstoke has a thriving community of business owners and entrepreneurs that that needs support from companies that can demonstrate empathy and understanding for what they are trying to achieve."

With an impressive track record for innovation, a clear focus on client needs and, as the firm's logo states, the mission to 'make law make sense', there can be no doubt Eric Robinson Solicitors is set to be a great asset to the business community in the town and region of Basingstoke.

Eric Robinson Solicitors' new address is 21, Chelsea House, Basingstoke, RG21 7BE.

Police identify woman victim of A30 crash

HAMPSHIRE police have identified a woman who died after a car she was travelling in crashed into a tree in Basingstoke last month.

Kirsty Saunders, of Sinclair Drive, Basingstoke, was the front-seat passenger in the BMW when the incident occurred at the A30 in Water End on Friday, June 24.

The 30-year-old was rushed to hospital with life-threatening injuries, but died three days later.

A 36-year-old man, who was driving the vehicle, also suffered potentially life-threatening injuries and remains in Southampton General Hospital in a critical condition.

The duo were understood to have been driving along the A30 in the direction of Hook at around 3.30pm when the car left the carriageway and collided into the tree.

Officers from the Serious Collision Investigation Unit have urged anyone who saw what happened or who saw the car prior to the collision to come forward.

Anyone with information is asked to call Sergeant Adrienne Jerram, from the SCIU based in Eastleigh, on 101, quoting 44160236029, or alternatively contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Daisy to attempt a powerboat record

A BASINGSTOKE adrenaline junkie will look to make history later this year after announcing her participation in a round-the-world powerboat record attempt.

Former Army servicewoman Daisy Coleman has made the sport of powerboat racing her life since being discharged from the military because of injury in 2013.

The 29-year-old from Popley will put her skills to the test in October when her and 11 other crew members look to complete the 24,000-mile journey around the globe in world record time.

She said: "I am so pleased to be given this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to attempt the very pinnacle of my sport."

"I never contemplated doing anything like this, and trying to break a world record, so it's going to be a fantastic experience, and I'm so grateful."

"I joined the Army to see the world, but only managed to see Iraq and Afghanistan, so this is

Have your say online

By Christian Wilson

a dream come true for me."

The crew will set off from the iconic Europa Point in Gibraltar on October 23 as they look to circumnavigate the planet in a semi-wave slicing powerboat.

New Zealander Pete Bethune has held the record for the epic feat of 60 days, 23 hours and 49 minutes since 1998.

But Daisy and Co are aiming to shave up to seven days off that time.

But even more important to the former soldier in the Royal Artillery of nine years is the challenge's inclusion of up to five wounded, injured or sick servicemen and women on each of the seven legs of the voyage.

Daisy said: "It's special for me to have that connection with other Army personnel on this, because my hand was forced, I didn't want to leave the military."

"When I left, I had no confidence in myself and felt useless, but that has all changed since I got involved in motorsport."

Daisy will join up with Team Britannia after collecting three top three P1 SuperStock championship finishes in a row since joining powerboat racing in 2013.

The record attempt will see the crew pass through the Suez and Panama canals and cross both the Tropic of Cancer and the Equator, while stopping to take on fuel at Puerto Rico, Acapulco, Honolulu, Guam, Singapore, Oman and Malta.

Team leader Alan Priddy said: "We are delighted Daisy is going to join the crew for the whole voyage and help us break the world record."

"She brings to the team a huge amount of experience and expertise from her career racing P1 powerboats, but more than that she brings her amazing can-do attitude and sense of humour."

"From the first time I met Daisy, to discussing with other crew members, we just knew we had a perfect fit."

Handbag snatched

BASINGSTOKE: Police have launched an appeal after a woman had her handbag stolen in South View, Basingstoke.

The incident took place at about 4.25pm on Sunday, June 26, as the 49-year-old woman walked along a footpath between Queen Mary Avenue and Jefferson Road.

A man approached her and snatched her handbag, described as being black with a set of large cat's eyes on the side, before running away.

The suspect is described as white, aged 20 to 25, about 5ft 6ins tall and of skinny build.

He had short, mousy-brown hair, which was slightly spiky on top, and wore light grey tracksuit bottoms and a black, short-sleeved T-shirt.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101, quoting crime reference number 44160238202.

Hospital AGM

BASINGSTOKE: Residents are being urged to attend Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust's annual general meeting.

The trust will hold the event at The Ark Centre in Dinwoodie Drive, at 5.30pm on Tuesday, July 26, when visitors have the chance to find out more about its work. The AGM presentations will start at 7pm.

WIN tickets to Fairport's Cropredy 2016!

ANYONE attending a village fete in Cropredy in the 70's would have looked at you as if you were insane had you tried to convince them that nearly 40 years later Fairport Convention's contribution to village life was to grow to one of the most loved festivals in the country.

From its simple musical session over an afternoon the festival has grown to a three day monster that draws 20,000 fans to see up to twenty different bands that cover a wide range of music.

This year's headliners for the 37th festival include

Gryphon the legendary British prog-folk band, on its first visit to Cropredy with an exhilarating mix of old and new material. Hayseed Dixie giving American bluegrass a rocking edge with their hillbilly versions of classic rock songs, and UK legends Madness performing hit after hit from their 35 year career.

Friday will see Steeleye Span make a welcome return to Cropredy, closely followed by the headlining Bootleg

Closing date: Friday, July 22

Beatles.

As ever Saturday will start with Richard Digance with the day featuring a wide range of music from artists as diverse as Maia, Gilmore & Roberts and Babylon Circus before Ralph McTell takes the last spot before Fairport Convention and Guests' 2 hour headlining set.

If it was just the music it would be enough but Cropredy also has an amazing relaxed atmosphere that is unequalled at any other UK summer event. This year the festival runs from Thursday the 11th to Saturday 13th of August. For more details and to book tickets visit www.fairportconvention.com

We have a family ticket pack for the weekend for one lucky winner who will get to enjoy three days of good music and real ale. The ticket pack includes a pair of adult weekend tickets, camping ticket and up to three under 12 child tickets.

Second prize is a pair of adult tickets to the Saturday including camping.

All you have to do to be in with a chance of winning one of these amazing prizes is answer this simple question.

Q: Which British prog rock band is making it's Cropredy debut this year?

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

SQUIRRELS: QUALITY AND FREE ADVICE

SQUIRRELS OWNER
ALAN STONE: "OUR shop is the only one within a five-mile radius of Basingstoke selling antique and collectables. We have a wide range of vintage and second-hand diamond and other jewellery."

"We've been here nearly 34 years, and are one of the longest established shops left in the town centre."

"We also import and export antiques worldwide. We offer free advice."

We also do probate work for local solicitors, mostly free, as well as a lot of valuation work for social services and charities."

"I personally specialise in antique silverware and jewellery."

"We have a very wide working knowledge and always happy to give advice. Why not pop in and see one of Basingstoke's most unique treasures."

Choirs to celebrate festival finale

TO celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday and the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's death, Basingstoke Festival of Choirs Heritage Light Orchestra will be giving a concert at The Anvil on Sunday, July 10.

A collection of some of Basingstoke and Deane's finest choirs will be coming together as part of this year's Basingstoke Festival.

For Festival of Choirs' chairman Dai Ogburn, it's something to be proud of to stage a prestigious event, which will see hundreds of people come together to sing songs that families can enjoy.

"This year they will be singing under the banner of 'The Best of British' where they will be showcasing a great variety of music from the like of John Rutter to Freddie Mercury and from Walton to Elgar with music to satisfy all tastes," he said.

"Hundreds of singers throughout the Borough of Basingstoke are busily rehearsing in which they are putting the final touches to their repertoire in readiness for their concert."

Dai said the concert would see singers from 15 choirs taking part under the banner of Basingstoke Festival of Choirs.

This year is the fifth annual Basingstoke Festival, with this year's festivities having started on June 10 and due to conclude on July 10.

By James Richings

The event at the Churchill Way venue will be one of the last for this year's festival, which has also seen the likes of Andy Fairweather Low, Russell Watson and Ernest Ranglin perform there within the last three weeks.

So it is no surprise that Dai wants to end the fifth consecutive Basingstoke Festival with a bang.

"The choir of almost 400 voices will be accompanied by the Heritage Orchestra," Dai said.

"Their two previous ventures together which were in 2012 and 2014 were sell-out events and they hope that this concert will prove to be three in a row.

"There will be a prom-style finale with a festive staging with members of the audience joining in the festivities, so we expect it to be a fantastic evening for everyone who makes it.

Tickets cost from £8 to £15 and the concert starts at 7pm.

Gunning for comic glory

WHEN you have worked alongside Al Murray and Michael McIntyre, you have a feeling your career in comedy will be OK.

And that was the case for funny man Mike Gunn, who arrives at Basingstoke's Red Lion Hotel on Thursday, July 14.

The gig is part of Jan Jack's Laughter-House's monthly entertainment roster, which will also see other comedians such as MC Phil Dinsdale, Mandy Muden and Daniel visiting the Red Lion Lane venue.

And with this being the last gig the comedy club is staging until September, the 52-year-old from Barnet hopes he can give the audience a show to remember.

"I very rarely get excited about anything but it has always been a career ambition of mine to play the Red Lion in Basingstoke," he told "So I am over the moon."

Known for his incredibly dry delivery on punchlines, Mike's sarcasm has made him a popular figure on the UK comedy circuit.

By James Richings

But prior to his comedy fame, the comic had to battle a number of demons in his personal life.

Struggles with alcohol and drug addiction saw Mike held back in his comedy career. He took a number of jobs to pay the bills, including working as a funeral director.

However, Mike managed to sort his life out and is now a familiar face on the British comedy scene.

He cemented his popularity by gaining thousands of fans after his appearance on the TV comedy show, 'Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow' in October 2010, when his segment about the comparison between what men and women like went down well with the audience.

"I think my comedy is dark," he said.

"I cover only the important things in life during my shows like death, sex, money and toilets."

Tickets for the show which is suitable for over-16s only cost £16.50. It starts at 8pm.

Comedians' visit

COMEDY: Funny men Andrew Ryan and Seann Walsh will be visiting the Phoenix Comedy Festival at the Phoenix Theatre and Arts Centre in Bordon on Monday, July 11.

The comics arrive at the Station Road venue as they gear up for this year's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

Suitable for over 16s, tickets cost £10 and it starts at 8pm.

Covers band gig

LIVE MUSIC: London-based covers band The Looters will be performing at the Fox and Hounds in Fleet on Friday, July 8.

The five-piece from Belsize Park visits the pub venue to play songs from the 1960s and 1970s as they embark on a short tour across the UK.

The gig is free and starts at 9pm.

End-of-year show

DANCE: Pupils from Bramley School will take to the stage of The Haymarket to put on an end-of-year summer show.

Inspired by pantomimes, audience members will get to see them act in a dance show that has a Cinderella and Rockafella twist.

Tickets cost £8 and the show starts at 8pm.

Dentalia

a new concept in dental care.

Get Fresh for Summer

The latest in non-surgical aesthetic beauty treatments is now being offered at Dentalia Dental Centre in a safe, medical and regulated environment.

What we do

- Upper face wrinkle reduction, eg. bunny lines, eyebrow lift, and softening frown, forehead and eyelines.
- Lower face wrinkle reduction, eg. Nefertiti neck lift, chin contouring, jaw shaping.
- Fillers e.g. smile lines, lip sculpturing, cheek sculpturing

We believe that the best results should not be too obvious, gently erasing some signs of ageing, so you look more rested, that just got back from a good holiday look!

ROMEO AND JULIET

This telling explores what love means to different generations and interrogates what sort of society we are creating for the future. In a world where people fall in and out of love over social media, this production explores forbidden love in today's society. Should we all be expected to grow up and get married? And what do we really mean when we say the 'L' word? Join us for a turbulent journey of love and tragedy, following the story of two rebels who reject the system and fall in love... or so they think.

NANCY KERR AND JAMES FAGAN

Nancy Kerr and James Fagan are one of the best-known and most experienced folk duos on the British circuit today. Outstanding musicianship, a lifelong grounding in traditional singing and instrumental playing, acclaimed original compositions but most noticeably a visceral chemistry between these two make Kerr and Fagan a perennial favourite at festivals, venues and clubs across the country. They won the inaugural Horizon Award at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2000, and were also the first ever recipients of the "Best Duo" Award, which they won in 2003, and again in 2011. They are one of only two acts ever to receive this honour twice (along with Spiers and Boden). Nancy is one of England's best-known folk fiddle players and in 2015 won 'Folk Singer of the Year' at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards.

MARK THOMAS – WORK IN PROGRESS

Red Shed is the third part in a trilogy that started with the multi award winning shows Bravo Figaro and Cuckooed. Mark returns to the place where he first started to perform in public, a red wooden shed in Wakefield, the labour club, to celebrate the club's 50th birthday. Interviewing old friends and comrades Mark pieces together the club's history and works with the club to campaign with some of the poorest workers in the country for their rights. It is the story of the battle for hope and the survival of a community in a small wooden shed. It is part theatre, part stand up, part journalism, part activism and returns to Mark's obsessions of community and struggle. The show will involve the audience (in a nice way) to help recreate the shed and its inhabitants.

COMEDY NIGHT: PHIL JERROD AND JOHN GORDILLO

Phil Jerrod began his stand-up career underneath an Angus Steakhouse in 2012. Since then he has failed his PhD, walked out of his job in publishing and been entertaining audiences up and down the country with his elegant rants on the often unfathomable problems of modern life. His innovative stream-of-consciousness style, inspired by a harsh upbringing in the cruel and unforgiving conditions of middle-class rural Warwickshire, has seen him perform in clubs, arts centres and theatres all across the UK and helped build his reputation as having grown one of the largest beards in stand-up comedy. He has recently been nominated for the Leicester Mercury Comedian of the Year 2014, and in 2013 was a semi-finalist in So You Think You're Funny New Act of the Year Competition and a quarter finalist in the Amused Moose Laugh Off.

John Gordillo is a Perrier Award-nominated English director and Comedian who has directed shows by the Comedian Eddie Izzard and was the host and co-creator of The RDA (Recommended Daily Allowance), a daily late-night topical comedy talk show, which played heavily with the conventions of the genre. The show ran for 60 episodes until BBC Choice was rebranded as BBC Three.

Gordillo returned to stand up in 2006, taking three critically successful solo shows to the Edinburgh festival in 07, 08 and 09. He has written and directed extensively for TV and live comedy, including a long partnership with US comedian Reginald D Hunter with whom, according to Gordillo's website, he is writing and producing an independent film.

ODDLY

A fun tale based on the much-loved children's book written by author Joyce Dunbar.

This story is about a curious boy from the city who sets off in search of three unusual creatures. Deep in a strange and tranquil forest he discovers the Lostlet, the Strangellet and the Oddlet. Together the new friends find surprising ways to make their hopes, dreams and wishes come true.

Norwich Puppet Theatre's adaptation visually reimagines the story with a magical mix of puppetry, visual tricks, masks and original music.

'No excuses' as Brown bids for a quick return

BASINGSTOKE Town manager Terry Brown has set his sights on bouncing straight back up to the National League South at the first attempt as league champions.

The Dragons will kick off the Southern League Premier season in August as a completely unrecognisable squad from the one that fell through the relegation trapdoor last term.

By Christian Wilson

Only club captain David Ray has elected to remain at the Ark Cancer Charity Stadium as a senior player, as the 'Stoke look to attract the best young players from the region.

Town boss Brown has so far signed nine players as part of his Basingstoke revolution, with his latest bit of business seeing versatile midfielder Matt Partridge return for a third spell with the club on Monday.

And while asking fans to be patient with his young side as they take time to get to know one another's game, he insisted that he would not allow his squad's age to be used as an excuse for a lack of success.

Brown said: "We have to set the targets as high as we possibly can.

"Why wouldn't I think at this stage of the season that we couldn't win the league?

"My message to our boys is that there are no excuses."

He continued: "They're younger, but that should mean that we are fitter, faster and stronger than everyone else.

"Of course, we're going to need time to bed in and if we can be in the top eight around Christmas, then we can kick on. My job is to keep us in touch early on when we're finding our feet.

"All I ask of the supporters is that they give us a little bit of time to gel because it's quite obvious that we're a long way off the finished article at the moment, and we're only just scratching the surface."

Former Wimbledon manager Brown has a reputation for success in the lower leagues, after gaining numerous promotions with the Dons, as well as at Margate, Hayes and Aldershot Town.

This track record, coupled with Basingstoke's new status as a full-time club in a division made up of part-timers, and the fact that they have come down from the league above will automatically place the Dragons among the favourites.

But Brown was adamant that all of these factors would be "totally and utterly irrelevant" in affecting how his side do next time around.

He added: "None of my players have earned the right to do anything this year.

"Regardless of my managerial past, that's totally and utterly irrelevant.

"Wearing the badge with Basingstoke on it is all that matters to me.

"I'm not going to accept any excuses - I don't care if other teams have more money than us.

"Trust me, they'll know from day one that we're here to win things."

New strips revealed

BASINGSTOKE Town fans can now look like their idols after the club unveiled its new strips for the 2016/17 season.

The Dragons' home shirt will keep with the tradition of the club by sticking with the predominantly blue colour, with yellow trim.

The shirts will once again follow a simple round neck design, with players wearing blue shorts for home matches and yellow and blue stripy socks.

Supporters can also now grab themselves the new Basingstoke away kit, with the strip retaining a similar all white with blue trim approach throughout to the one worn last season.

Both kits are available for pre-order now, with fans urged to make their order by emailing admin@btfc.co.uk.

Bison's home capacity to be halved

THE Basingstoke Bison have announced that the club will halve the seating capacity of its home rink for next season.

Rumours had spread across social media in recent weeks that the reigning English Premier League (EPL) champions might have to leave their home at Planet Ice, in Basingstoke Leisure Park.

Concerns had been raised over a number of longstanding issues with the home dressing room and away block side of the building, at a time when plans to build a new dual-use ice rink arena on the site are being examined by the borough council.

But the club has now moved to dispel the rumours, instead revealing that the capacity of the Basingstoke Arena would be reduced from 2,000 to 1,000, while the problems with the facilities are fixed.

As well as the reduction in seats, the change will also see a change in the position of certain blocks within the building, and some movement with regards to standing places.

Herd officials have made, or are in the process of making, contact with the 16 season ticket holders who will be affected, with Planet Ice reaffirming its commitment to the town.

Managing director John Neville said: "We are working hard alongside Basingstoke and Deane council to rectify any issues within the Basingstoke Arena.

"The council have been kept informed of all issues within the building and have been extremely supportive.

"Together, we feel we can work towards a mutually beneficial solution for the users and supporters of the rink, alongside the town as a whole.

"We remain committed to Basingstoke and look forward to working on the already publicised new development, which would include a new home for the Bison."

He added: "We look forward to welcoming our fan base back to the Basingstoke Arena next season as we step up preparations for the defence of our league title."

Derby defeat

CRICKET: The local bragging rights went to Hook and Newnham Basics on Saturday as they handed Basingstoke and North Hants their second loss on the bounce.

In the first north Hampshire derby match of the season, the Bountymen's batsmen once again proved to be their weakness as they slipped to an 82-run defeat at May's Bounty in the Southern League Division 1.

Ryan Connor (3-22) helped do some damage to the Hook batting line-up, while an unbeaten knock of 70 from Nick Willock helped the visitors finish on 199-8.

But, with middle-order man Brad Neal top scoring with just 32, Basingstoke never looked in danger of troubling that tally after that as they were removed for just 118.

Collard return

MOTORSPORT: Hook racer Ricky Collard will return to British F3 action at Spa-Francorchamps in Belgium this weekend.

The 19-year-old is still leading the championship by 19 points, but will look to have a better time of things than he did in the previous round of races at Silverstone last month.

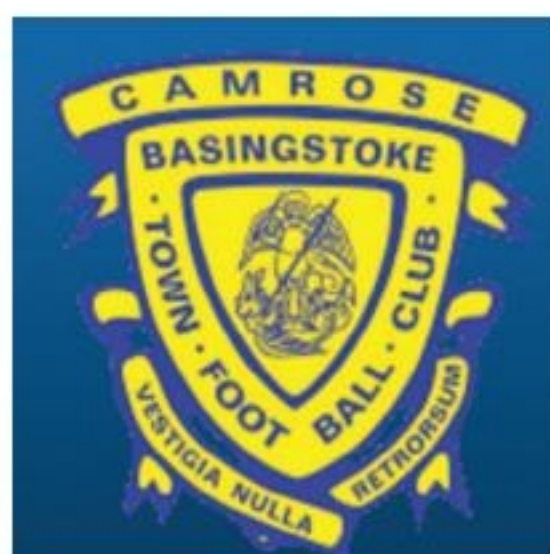

Collard had led by 37 points going into the round, before a crash in race two dropped him down from second to 13th place to effectively ruin his points haul for the weekend.

Stuttering form

GOLF: A poor second round put pay to hopes Justin Rose had of warming up for The Open next week with a win.

The north Hampshire golfer missed the cut completely two weeks earlier in the US Open, and showed few signs of improving on that enough to claim a second career major with his performance at the WGC-Bridgestone.

Rose followed up a strong 69 (-1) opening round with scores of 76 (+6), 73 (+3) and 72 (+2) at Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, to finish tied for 46th with a 10-over-par score.

STAMPED SIGN TWO MORE

BASINGSTOKE Bison's quest to retain their English Premier League (EPL) title has taken another big step forward after two more members of last season's title-winning roster put pen to paper to seal new deals with the club.

Herd forwards Grant Rounding and Daniel Lackey will once again suit up for their local side in the autumn taking the number of last year's players to re-sign up to 12.

Both players made their mark in the latter weeks of the season, with Rounding recovering from a long period out injured on the sidelines to impress in the final run-in.

And having seen the 25-year-old's two seasons at Planet Ice blighted by injuries, head coach Doug Sheppard assured fans that they are still yet to see the best of the winger.

He said: "He has really been unlucky with injuries, but I think we saw at the end of last season what he brings to the table."

"His speed and fore checking is always going to cause problems to other teams."

Rounding said: "I have been unlucky with some freak injuries, but I am fully fit now and cannot wait for the new season to start."

"The team looks very good with the signings so far and I think we have a chance of winning all three trophies."

Lackey became a real fans' favourite after joining from Basingstoke Buffalo towards the end of the campaign, despite failing to score in any of his 16 EPL appearances.

He said: "I felt I did well in the short time I was with the team, even if my stats did not reflect this."

"I hope to get amongst the goals this year and I really think we have a great chance of defending our title."

The 26-year-old came through the Bison junior development programme and last played for the Herd in the 2010/11 season, before impressing Sheppard sufficiently with the Buffalo to force his way back.

"He brings a more physical style of play to the team and has impressed me with his dedication to training with the team, even when he was not in the Bison line-up," said the Bison boss.

"He takes his hockey very seriously and he will only improve being on the team for a full season."
